Assess, Transform & Manage

Next-ATM Service

Succeed with NextPoint. Let NextPoint guide you.

NextPoint combines their consulting practice services with their software solutions to help you assess, transform and manage your IT infrastructure, systems and applications.

NextPoint believes their Assess, Transform & Manage service (ATM) is unique and can:

- improve and rationalize your IT function
- save you money, and
- reduce your environmental footprint.

The Assess, Transform & Manage process provides the foundation of NextPoint's methodology. All of NextPoint's product solutions are formulated as a direct result of customer needs, identified by this process.

In summary, NextPoint helps companies assess, transform and manage their IT function effectively and with confidence.

Assess

NextPoint assesses your IT and compares your performance with best practices and your industry peers. This assessment results in a comprehensive report which:

- baselines and benchmarks your IT
- outlines opportunities to save money, improve processes and optimize your IT function.

Transform

NextPoint transforms your IT to realize cost savings and other benefits. NextPoint will recommend a course of action and execute this transition in a cost and time effective plan.

Manage

NextPoint manages your IT effectively. They provide on-going guidance and assistance to manage both strategically and tactically; offering resources from a purely advisory capacity through to a fully managed solution - in some cases even a completely outsourced IT department.
